

2009
METROPOLITAN

Riders have always loved the Metropolitan because it's stylish and smart. Now there's another reason: great gas mileage.

METROPOLITAN Already one of the most stylish scooters going, the Metropolitan takes the hip factor even higher for 2009. And to make a great scooter even better, you can get a special edition with a chromed muffler and other accents. Underneath all that cool styling, though, is a famously reliable Honda engine connected to a transmission you'll never have to shift—not even into Park or Neutral. It's light and easy to handle too. And best of all, because it's a Honda, you know you're getting the best-built scooter you can find. Just about all you have to do is remember to put a little gas in it once in a while—and we do mean just a little, because the Metropolitan can get over 100 miles to the gallon!*
